

Bringing Connectivity to Your Community

OBAE Participates in Cabinet in Your Community

OBAE Acting Director Drew Lovelace addresses attendees at Cabinet in Your Community in Clovis

The Office of Broadband Access and Expansion was among the many Departments and Agencies that took part in the Governor's Cabinet in Your Community events Monday and Tuesday in Clovis and Portales. The events at Clovis Community College and Eastern New Mexico University served as an opportunity for local residents to address the Cabinet and ask questions about services and problems in their communities.

Constituents asked the Governor and her Cabinet about a variety of issues. OBAE Acting Director Drew Lovelace talked about what his Office is doing to expand broadband across New Mexico and why it's so important in these times.

Before the Governor held the town hall meetings, Departments and Agencies took part in expos to interact with constituents and answer questions. Residents learned about state services, assistance opportunities and various available programs. OBAE had a booth where Lovelace and project managers talked to residents about broadband expansion, ongoing projects and the Office's progress.
